Popular Wedding

HILL—MORRIS
A quiet wedding took place on Wednesday, October 24th, in the Anglican church, Stettin when Maribel Ethel, youngest daughter of Mr and Mrs Frederick Morris, became the bride of Mr George Elmer Hill, in the presence of relatives and friends of the contracting parties. Rev. W. E. Herbert of Stettin was the officiating minister. The bride looked lovely dressed in blue crepe, while the bridesmaid was prettily attired in pink.

After the ceremony a dainty lunch was served for the guests at the parsonage. A wedding party was held Wednesday evening, the 24th, at the home farm south of town, where the bride and groom will take up their residence in future. The best wishes of the many friends and relatives of the popular young couple wish them a prosperous and happy married life. Mr and Mrs Hill will spend their honeymoon in Calgary.

Board of Trade Meeting

The regular session of the local Board of Trade took place Friday last with the usual banquet provided by the ladies. In the absence of Secretary Archie McNeil, Mr Kerr was asked to preside with the pencil, with the President Mr McDonald in the chair. Mr B. K. VanBuren organizer for the Western Canada Auto Association was present at the meeting and read a very interesting discussion with regard to organizing a unit of the WCAA in Mirror. Mr McDonald gave his opinion on the matter stating that an organization of this size would have the ability to render a very efficient service to all its members. He also pointed out with an illustration how such an organization would materially assist the Government highway authorities. He also mentioned that by operating the club in conjunction with the Board of Trade, would avoid starting a separate organization that might clash with the meetings of the Board.

Mr VanBuren gave a complete outline of the benefits derived from the Association, and explained that the bulk of the monies paid by the members remained within this locality for the club to utilize as their discretion directed, as the erection of road signs, road work, etc. He stated how the Co-operative club had been enabled to keep one of their main roads open all winter.

After an interchange of opinions it was moved by Mr Kerr and seconded by Mr Flewelling that the Board go on record as being in favor of organizing a unit of the WCAA in Mirror.

Mr McDonald at this juncture stressed the necessity of immediate action being taken in the matter of the skating and curling rink, urging that the levelling and foundation work be completed before the frost sets in. Mr Kerr gave a very encouraging report of his and Mr Archie McNeil's efforts in securing shareholders in which he stated that the sum of $700 was reached. There are still a number who have not yet been approached, and it is expected that in a very short time the necessary amount will be reached. During the discourse it was mentioned that Mr McKenzie had consented to the use of his horses for levelling purposes. However it was decided to call a meeting the following Monday, to make arrangements for the rink program. Moved by J. T. Kerr seconded by A. R. Hopkins that Mr Crown be appointed next chairman. Meeting adjourned.

Experiment With Flax Straw

Two Tons Threshed Flax Straw From Saskatchewan To Be Sent To Glasgow

Experiments to be conducted with two tons of Saskatchewan threshed flax straw in Glasgow, Scotland, may result in the establishment of "several factories" in this province.

The prospect, predicted by H. L. Pritchard, director of the Pritchard Flax-Fibre and Pulp Company, Ltd., Glasgow, Scotland, is a letter to provincial authorities.

Mr. Pritchard asks that two tons of threshed flax straw be shipped to his firm. He wants the straw found in the smallest possible bulk to transportable bales of two to four hundredweights each and put on rail to the nearest Eastern Canadian port and shipped to Glasgow.

"We desire to have this waste flax straw after threshing with which to experiment and make a new use of it," writes Mr. Pritchard. "We trust the economic value of this waste flax cultivation of your North West will give you co-operation in ascertaining what value there is in this short length of flax straw which is of practical use at present."

"In working this waste there is no retting or scutching by our process as the operation of the flax in short pieces is entirely mechanical. We would like to know what quantity of this waste flax straw could be procured throughout Saskatchewan; what distance the growers would deliver it at the most opportune time after their harvest is finished and what price per ton would induce the flax growers to threshers to save it and deliver it."

"If the quantity and cost of procuring it can be ascertained by the company, we would establish several factories to work the straw into fibre in Saskatchewan so that the fibre could be transported in the most economical way which would greatly lessen the freight."

The provincial authorities will take steps to secure the required quantity of flax straw and the information sought by Mr. Pritchard and do all that is possible to encourage agriculture industry to locate in the province.—Regina Leader.

Question Of Dieties

Vitamin Cure For Deficiency Diseases

In 1911 Dr. Funk discovered the vitamin cure for beri-beri, a deficiency disease due to removal of the vitamin cover of rice. Since the vitamin cure for rickets, polyneuritis, scurvy, pellagra and other deficiency diseases were discovered and called vitamins A, B, C, D, the first being fat-soluble "A" and found in fatty foods such as butter, cream, cod liver oil, liver, kidney, egg yolk, germ of cereals, flaxseed, carrots, sweet potatoes, etc.

The water soluble "B" vitamins are found in succulent vegetables such as cabbage, cauliflower, celery, lettuce, parsnips, spinach, potatoes, corn, beans, fruits, nuts, milk and yeast.

More Worry For Bill

The record of a baptism, 1604, found in a Cretschian church, refers to a John England, believed to have been an ancestor of President Coolidge. The record would have been enough to make Mayor Thompson, of Chicago, go on a rampage in the days before his recent collapse.

"Well, now, what time do I have to get to work mornings?" asked the new hired man.

"Any time you like," responded Farmer Fumledge. "Be's it ain't later than half-past-four."

"That must be very awkward."

"No. Very convenient. He pays the money in and I draw it out."

Indians Show Interest In Red Cross

Blood Indians of Alberta Impressed By Red Cross Ship At Lethbridge

At the annual fair at Lethbridge, Alberta, where the Provincial Red Cross had an extensive health exhibition, hundreds of Indians from the Blood Reserve were interested spectators at the booth. Squaws gave blankets of many colors and keechips of brilliant blue painted round to hear the story of Red Cross from the sick and crippled children of the province.

The old chiefs were especially impressed by the fact that some of their own tribes had sent children to be cared for in the Calgary and Edmonton Hospitals. The names of the little patients were received in solemn silence but a look of profound wonder stole over their bronze countenances as they saw the pictures of lame feet straightened, and twisted limbs released.

Little Susan Medicine Pipe was a recent patient, while the son of Two Skins is waiting for a vacancy in the hospital.

A tall, pretty looking young man, Mountain Horse, offered to assist the Red Cross in its annual campaign for funds and his mother came forward with a promise to send some hand-made beaded moccasins as contributions to the little sick children in hospital.

Uses Novel Rest Cure

Noted Author Finds Handkerchief Over Eyes Keeps Nerves Quiet

Sir Gilbert, the novelist, who recently returned from Palestine, where he went to get data for his novel on David, has lying about his bed for some time. He has spotted handkerchief on the arm of a chair, folded in the shape one uses to blindfold anyone. "Asked what it is for," he said, "I want to lie in his Henry Henry's dressing-room one evening. He was lying down with his big handkerchief, such a white one, over his eyes, and he said, 'I do this to get ten minutes' sleep every evening.' It rests me!"

"I bought two handkerchiefs," added Sir Gilbert, "and tried the same effect. I am a very bad sailor, but when I travel now I tie one of these handkerchiefs over my eyes, and very little for the first two days, and I haven't been seasick for the last 27 years. Now when I am sickening, I tie a handkerchief over my eyes as well."

The world is shut out. The handkerchief is a long blue one, very quiet, and so I can dictate for one or two hours without fatigue."

Reliable Weather

Forecasts Predicted

Accurate In About 200 Years Says

Weather forecasts may be expected to be accurate in about 200 years, according to George A. Loveland, Meteorologist of the United States Weather Bureau at Boston. Mr. Loveland declares that with the passing of two more centuries sufficient data will have been collected to make reliable forecasts possible.

Forecasts at present are about 80 per cent. correct, he declares. The weather has been studied directly by man, he says, but while astronomy is an exact science which has been studied for centuries, meteorology has been studied for about three quarters of a century.

When the effect of the sun's heat on the earth has been studied for two centuries more, Mr. Loveland predicts the meteorologist can with accuracy predict the weather far into the future.

Not Altogether Correct

Interviewer: "I have been informed, sir, that you began life as a poor bricklayer."

Great Contractor: "There are two mistakes in that statement. I began life as an infant, and there is no such thing as a poor bricklayer."

Husband: "If you hadn't taken so long to get ready we shouldn't have missed that train."

Wife: "Yes, but you shouldn't have had so long to wait for the next one."

The Guest: "I say, waiter, I believe it's had some to speak disrespectfully of one's elders?"

The Waiter: "No I was said, sir."

The Guest: "Then I will be silent about this chicken."

The custom of referring to important people as "nob" has its origin in the "al nob"—abbreviated Latin for "son of a nobleman."

The weasel, whose white winter coat forms the ermine of commerce, is found in various forms from the Arctic to the Tropics.

Would Collect Relics

Of Gold Rush Days

Few Reminders Of Past On Old Cariboo Road

Efforts are being made at Kamloops, B.C., to preserve the gold rush relics of the few remaining relics that marked the picturesque gold rush of the Cariboo Road.

The road is now a motor highway becoming increasingly popular with tourists, but a few years ago it was traversed by weary, ragged, old teams and pack trains, while during the height of the Cariboo gold rush, caravans were brought into use as loads of lumber.

Before the country was opened up by the Pacific Great Eastern Railway and the automobile, practically all the freight was carried in huge wagons hauled by a dozen or more oxen or horses. But today the highway has been completely motorized and there are few reminders of the past except the old log-built roadhouses that years ago were the sole outpost of civilization in wide stretches of wild country.

Isaac Lehman, of Ashcroft, possesses one of the few freight wagons which, hitched with a couple of others behind sixteen or twenty oxen, could have been seen winding its way along the Cariboo road in the old days. It is one of the few that remain and Lehman will give it to the province if he wishes.

Lyne, along the roadside between Kamloops and Barkerville in the old gold country of northern Cariboo is one of the famous B.C. Express Company's wagons, loaded on leather before the days of steel springs. It is rapidly falling into decay. In the distance along the Cariboo road, a few more of these old-fashioned wagons, some of them with multi-millionaire loads to the goldfields, are still to be seen.

Representations may be made to the provincial government to have these relics collected and restored so that they may serve as a reminder of the province's most romantic pioneer era.

Treatment To Control Smut

Result Of Experiment Conducted By O.A.C. Expert

Experiments conducted in Kent County by a member of the staff of the O.A.C. are reported as follows: In addition to formol, nine different substances were tried for the control of smut, some in the form of dusts and some as liquids. The dusts in three trials varied from 1.2 per cent. to 1.4 per cent., except the formol spray which had only a trace of smut. The untreated plots had 2.6 per cent. smut. Hulleas oats were treated with formal both as the spray and sprinkle methods and with copper carbonate dust. Where formal had been used there was germination injury, where copper carbonate had been used there was only a trace of smut, and where no treatment had been given there was 59.2 per cent. smut.

Aged Indian Visits England

The venerable chief, White Eagle, of the Ojibwa Indians, who is now in England, is said to be 105 years old. He has been across the ocean before and was eyed with interest by many British during Queen Victoria's Jubilee in 1887. He was born in Colorado when Pike's Peak was a peak, and has seen almost everything that could happen to the West. He is a good Indian—and still a live one.

The first perambulator was built in 1780 for the baby daughter of the fifth Duke of Devonshire.

Class "A" Fairs

Western Canada's Fine Big Fairs Were Most Successful This Year

On the whole the five big livestock fairs this summer were an unqualified success. The first of these, at Brandon, was seriously hampered by frequent rains, and while this could not detract from the quality of the exhibits, it did curtail attendance, adding nothing memorable to the coming of the visitors at any time. The remaining four shows had the finest records of weather, and new attendance records were created at each of them.

Featuring the livestock exhibit on this circuit were outstanding entries from outside herds in the beef cattle classes. A uniformity of type and quality seldom attained in wide-apart herds was particularly noticeable in Shorthorn classes, and the competition in both Shorthorns and Angus with American entries providing an international aspect, was especially keen. Dairy herds from five provinces were strongly in evidence at a number of these fairs, and here again competition was of the best. At all points local entries in the more important classes of livestock were fewer than might be true, this being perhaps less true of the Regina exhibition than of others. Competent critics declared the Regina fair to be outstanding in respect to its stock entries.

The fair famed Calgary stampede attracted visitors from all parts of Canada and the United States and the regularity of this event continues to grow. A perfect week of hot weather boosted the gate at Edmonton. Saskatoon experienced only one day of rain and this proved no deterrent to the eager crowds. New buildings and equipment replacing that worn through fire eastern of the season were completed and ready for the big event, and the Saskatoon management are to be congratulated for the initiative and enterprise which they displayed.

Ancient Castle In Ireland Keeps Up Interesting Count

On the north shore of Dublin Bay, the Horth Castle, an ancient Irish stronghold. It is now owned and occupied by a retired naval commander and a former shipmate of King George V. Prince of Wales who is careful to keep up its old traditions. At every meal, for instance, an extra place is provided at the table, and is reserved for any stranger arriving.

The origin of this interesting custom goes back to ancient times, when the heir of one of the Lords of the castle was kidnapped by gypsies, and his little black on condition that the hospitality of the castle should never be refused to anyone.

Where Canada Leads

Statistics show that Canada now leads the world in the production of nickel, asbestos, hydro-electric power, and newsprint. The Dominion has in the second greatest number of telephones in use, the second greatest number of automobiles, and the second greatest coal reserves. The third in the production of silver, gold and aluminum.

Newspapers Of Early Period

English Mercerie, Published In 1588, Tells About the Spanish Armada

In answer to the claim made recently in Germany to the effect that the copy of the "Augustus Avian," dated 1608, now on exhibition at the International Press Exhibition at Cologne, is the oldest newspaper in existence, J. W. C. Beattie, 214 Broadway, a collector of rare newspapers, has produced a copy of the English Mercerie, printed in 1588, which he claims is the oldest original newspaper in the world today.

The English Mercerie, which was printed in Whitehall, Eng., on July 23, 1588, carries an account of the sighting of the Spanish Armada off the coast of England.

It is 7½ by 9½ inches in size, contains four pages and is printed on hand-made paper. It was printed during the reign of Queen Elizabeth by Christ Baker, Her Majesty's printer. Beattie also has a copy of The Weekly News, printed in London in 1606 for Jeffrey Chorton, to have been sold at Chorton's shop at the great close of St. Paul's Church in London.

It was printed during the week of Monday, January 31 of that year, and contains an account of the execution of Guy Fawkes and seven other persons who endeavored to bomb the House of Parliament during the reign of King James.

The account is headed "Gunpowder, Treason and Plot." The following papers were purchased thirty years ago by Beattie in England at one time he also secured an English paper book which was printed in 1609.

Beattie also has a copy of The News, printed in London in 1609, which contains an article describing the great smallpox plague that occurred in that city during that year. It was published by Thomas Newcomb, of London.

A copy of The London Gazette, published Monday, September 1609, gives an account of the fire that swept London a week preceding the date is also owned by Beattie, who claims that these publications are original and the first one mentioned is, so far as he has been able to learn, the oldest in existence.

Stuart River District

Western Canadian Business Men Establish Model Farm In B.C.

J. G. McWhorter, a well known western Canadian business man who is developing a model farm in the Stuart River District, Central British Columbia, advises that growing conditions have been favorable along the Stuart, this year, and that he has excellent crops of wheat and oats.

Mr. McWhorter is performing a great service for the Stuart River section in the efforts he is making to place agriculture upon a profitable basis, the Manablay being the model "ranch" of the interior. The Stuart River and river district is one of the most beautiful parts of British Columbia and the pioneer settlers are establishing some very fine farms.

The country abounds in game and the best of trout and other fish are found in every lake and stream.

The Influx From Overseas

Study Stream Of Settlers Coming Into Western Canada

Settlers have been coming into Western Canada in a steady stream since the beginning of the year, and nearly all have gone direct to the farming district of the west to take employment with the farmers. Many came to join relatives or friends already settled. Since January 1st, 1918, the number of immigrants has been 201 settlers from overseas.

The Winnipeg office of the Colonization and Agricultural Departments of the Canadian National Railways. Of this number 6,002 were British workmen who came out to take part in the grain harvest, many of whom, it is expected, will remain in the country for the purpose of taking up land.

The others were mostly agricultural folk from Great Britain, Scandinavia and other northern and central European countries. In addition to a regular train, it required 82 special trains to transport these people from the seaboard, and inspectors of the department who take all trains carrying immigrants travelled no less than 41,118 miles in the performance of their duty. In addition to the influx from overseas, a large number of farmers and their families have come to Western Canada from the United States this year. Not a having been attracted by the mining developments.

Russians Are Clever Students

New Canadians, Make Most Creditable Showings At School Here

The Edmonton Journal says editorially: "A Russian boy, now at school in Calgary four years ago without a word of English, has made an average of 81 in Grade 9 examinations. On one subject he was marked 85. The achievement of this Calgary boy goes along well with that of a Russian girl in Toronto who at 15 did not see any English and at 19 was declared a brilliant student at Toronto University. It will not do to sneer at the new Canadians; they have great powers, brilliant, even as scholars, and these two young Russians who have so distinguished themselves are cases in point."

Oldest Tennis Court Found

Built In Tennis Court Centuries Ago By Henry Eighth

Four hundred years ago King Henry VIII, the oldest tennis court extant in this country. The "club" monarch had taken over the great Palace at Hampton Court, which Cardinal Wolsey had built for himself out of his spare revenues; but it needed one or two little luxuries, and the monarch's great-grandson, King Edward VI, himself was a player here, and Elizabeth an onlooker, if not more.

The most famous of onlookers was probably William Shakespeare, for here he and his company appeared before the court in a record of festivities, which was the play of every kind. Greatest of all the games played on this historic court was that one in May, 1585, when our renowned monarch, George Lambert, lost his royal position to Thomas Pettit, the American, by five sets to seven, in a contest occupying three days.

NEW HOME OF THE CALGARY ALBERTAN

When the new building now under construction for The Alberta Publishing Company, in Calgary, is completed, it will be the home of one of the most modern newspaper plants in Western Canada. As the tourist reaches our country he should be given a card containing full particulars in regard to highway regulations, the purchase and consumption of liquor and in reference to all other matters with which he should be familiar, while he is a guest of this province. It is a hardship to punish a visitor for transgressing a law in regard to which he has not been informed, a difficulty which would be completely overcome by the introduction of some such plan as this.

A WONDERFUL TRIBUTE

Baby's Own Tablets Declared To Be Worth Their Weight

In Gold

Nothing has only to say Baby's Own Tablets may be so convinced that nothing else can equal them in handling the life of her little ones. Once used, always used, as long as there are small children in the home—that is the tribute thousands of mothers pay the Tablets.

Among the many mothers who are anxious to test the experience with Baby's Own Tablets, Mrs. Griffith, of East Hamilton, Ont. writes: "Shortly after the birth of my daughter I began giving the Tablets to my baby boy when he was six weeks old. The result was so pleasing that since that time I have always given the Tablets in the same way to my two children now and both of them are the picture of health. Baby's Own Tablets are the only medicine they have ever had and I really believe the Tablets to be worth their weight in gold."

Baby's Own Tablets are free from all injurious drugs and can be given to the youngest babe without the slightest safety. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Farmers' Marketing Tour

Canadian National Railway's Tour To Great Britain and Denmark, 1928

Historically speaking the Glasgow Town Hall is a comparatively recent building in the Venetian Renaissance style, and the hall in which we were entertained is lofty, airy and in the above spacious magnificent. Three beautiful wall paintings command attention, one depicting the legend of King Roderick and St. Mungo, the representation of the staff of the City's coat of arms, and a second a Glasgow scene in the Middle Ages. It was this last painting that in this scene was portrayed a Clyde-land, during the period covered by about 1500. The third is the last-land on the stocks of the Clyde before her completion. For all its comparative modernity, the banqueting hall can boast a history. Queen Victoria, King Edward, Queen Alexandra, King George, Queen Mary, and the Prince of Wales have dined in it. Every Prime Minister of Great Britain since 1801 has been the guest of the City there and in July, 1914, three weeks before the war, the German burgomasters dined there after visiting the shipyard and the city of Glasgow and Scotland. Only two toasts were honored: "The King" and "The Kaiser," and the German and British National Anthems were sung. Soon after the burgomasters were hurrying home, their trip cut short by the outbreak of the Great War.

Mr. David Mason and the Corporation entertained us in characteristic Scottish style. The bagpits were piped in to the tune of "Happy We've been here" by the City of Glasgow Police Band, at the end of which ceremony the chairman proffered Pipe Major the time-honored refreshment, acknowledgement by the Pipe Major with the traditional response: "Thanks and a health to you" spoken in Gaelic.

A little secret history attaches to the fine new lighted ship which was won by the Pipe Major for the first time in our honor. It appeared in circumstances had compelled the Corporation to wield the economy axe and in the end they had decided to cut out one pair of trousers from the annual suit of uniformed city officers. It was proposed to spend twenty guineas on a feigned ship for the Pipe Major, but this would hardly have done in view of the incident of the trousers. Happily, however, the difficulty was overcome by a public-spirited citizen who presented the City with a properly mounted ship.

There were two musical programs. The first, a march, strategically led by the pipe band and selections by the City of Glasgow Police Orchestra who honored us by playing Canadian songs and dances. Glasgow is renowned as a musical city.

We spent our afternoon watching a football match as guests of the Corporation and thoroughly enjoyed the experience.

At the close of our first program was now ended, but there were still many things to see. We had seen more in thirty-two days than perhaps any party of the same size had seen. Doors for which money was no key, had been thrown open to us. We were everywhere, guarded and kindly sought had been freely admitted to the Canadian Farmers' Party, and the heartiest of both high and low had been opened up for us. Throughout we had been taken care of with something more than the usual hospitality. In charge of the officials of the Canadian Farmers' Party and the Globe Travel Bureau, had become our friends. We would not part without returning thanks and expressing our esteem. So we hailed Mr. Weir, the organizer of the tour in Europe, Mr. Groff, organizer in Canada, and Mr. Whinnip, agricultural representative for the Canadian National Railway in Winnipeg, before a mock trial, apparently to try them for their sins, but in reality to present the first two with a silver salver suitably inscribed, and Mr. Strachan with the first two with a silver salver suitably inscribed, and Mr. Strachan with the first two with a silver salver suitably inscribed.

Paul had been asked in a letter from the Corporation of Glasgow or not one might eat meat which had first been offered to food to eat. The writers doubtless wished to make the party who stood for liberty of conscience, and probably for the Pauline axiom, "All things are lawful to me," Paul's answer follows in this eighth chapter.

With regard to food that has been offered to idols, or of course, "we all possess knowledge." Knowledge, as we have seen, is a great blessing, but it makes one so clear that explanation is unnecessary. There was Mr. Dan Johnson, European Colonization Manager for the Canadian National Railway, "Brownie" (Mr. R. W. Brown), Mr. Johnson's assistant whose singing was never forgotten, especially the "You and Me" song which rallied members of our party. hands clasped concluded a happy evening.

Sunday food us perhaps a little glut, for quite a number of our party was remaining to visit friends or relations. We had found that Canadians are Canadians wherever they are, whatever Province they came from, and it was with sincere regret that we parted at Greenock from those who stayed behind. The night we were off, the shores of Britain were lost in the oncoming night. Sing live the Homeland—now for HOME!

CRITICIZES MOVE TO BRING JOBLESS FROM BRITAIN

Toronto. — Immigration problems formed the chief subject of discussion at a session of the United and Labor Congress of Canada, held last night. While there were few aspects of the immigration policy left untouched, the highlights of the session were the unqualified denunciation of the British mine-harvester movement and an address by Hon. Peter Heenan, in which the Minister of Labor dealt forcefully with the immigration question.

Mr. Heenan charged that there was a well-thought-out campaign being conducted in Great Britain to stampede the Dominion government into bringing British unemployed to Canada by the shipload. The propaganda was motivated by the desire of certain interests in the old country to solve a political problem and encourage by persons in Canada who wanted to flood the labor market and provide jobs for every one.

As an instance of the working of the scheme, the speaker said that advertisements in England were telling the people that coal miners were wanted in Canada at high wages when as a matter of fact there was a surplus of miners in every coal field in the Dominion.

"It's a lie," declared Mr. Heenan, "to say that the British unemployed want to work in Canada. They are content to subsidize on the dole. They want to work and so the false reports of lots of work and high wages in Canada are eagerly received."

"Canada ought to have something to say about this," he continued. "Canada ought to be past the stage where we can take up a paper and read calmly that a British magistrate has allowed a conviction of a crime to go on suspended sentence if he migrates to Canada."

The labor minister denounces the movement of British miners to Canada for harvest labor, and pointed out that it was separate from immigration policy questions.

"We knew we could get men in other parts of the world," he said, "but the British government offered us $2,000 men, accustomed to hard manual work, and why should we turn down men from such a blood?"

Gambling In Land Values

Says Prices All Over Canada Higher Than In England

London, Ont. — Gambling in land by all classes of Canadian citizens is one of the major reasons values are at such prices, declared A. G. Dalziel, of Toronto, speaking at noon before a luncheon session of the Town Planning Institute of Canada, which was now being held in the city. The speaker quoted evidence to show that land values were very much higher all over Canada than in England and other countries and he stated that the chief reason for this was a wholesale speculation in properties all over the Dominion.

Old Age Pensions Paid

Amount in B.C. Totalling $441,222 Up To June Last

Ottawa, Ont. — Old age pensions to the value of $441,222 had been paid up to June last, to 3,150 persons in British Columbia who had taken advantage of the scheme, according to statistics just compiled by the department of labor. Of this amount the federal government paid one-half.

British Columbia's pensioners comprised 22 per cent of the population of that province over 70 years of age. The average monthly pension was $7.67, the pensioners being divided as 1,371 males and 1,779 females.

Proportion owned by these pensioners, in valued at $1,520,782. Of the pensioners in British Columbia, 271 were previous residents of Ontario, 257 of Alberta, 179 of Manitoba, 179 of Saskatchewan, 73 of Nova Scotia, 37 of Quebec, 18 of the Yukon, and 10 of Prince Edward Island. ## Opportunities In Peace River

Lord Lovat Thinks That British Settlers Are Drawn To In North Country

Edmonton, Alta. — "There are wonderful opportunities for British settlers throughout the Peace district," declared Lord Lovat, chairman of the British Overseas Settlement committee, on his return to Edmonton following a week's tour in Canada's far-western country.

"We met several of the British farmers who were settled at various points throughout the Peace district under the 3,000 family scheme, and without exception, all these people are doing well, and are more than satisfied with their venture."

"Many of these men were miners, and few of them had any previous farming experience. They are making good, and their experience shows clearly that the given will to succeed, lack of experience is no bar to success."

Lord Lovat found that over 3,000 homesteaders and settlers have gone to the Peace district this year, and everywhere there prevails a spirit of optimism for the future.

New Plane Tested

Demonstration At Los Angeles Proves Automatic Landing Feasible

Los Angeles. — A "plane" constructed on the basis of the new plane, made successful test flights here, demonstrating, observers said, that an aircraft can make an automatic landing controlled by the department of war.

Merle F. Kelley, who piloted the "plane," was said to have taken the craft from the ground on 815 seconds, and landed sharply angled, cruised at 100 miles an hour and then landed with both hands aloft.

The "plane" was described by A. A. Merrill, inventor, as lifting the wings, which are a single unit, in relation to the speed device in the cockpit.

The "plane" has a short fuselage and very little tail. In its construction the inventor was assisted by Dr. Clark Millard, son of Dr. R. A. Millard; Dr. Harry Baleman and Dr. A. L. Klein, all of the California Institute of Technology.

U.S. Building De Luxe Planes

MOST OF BRITISH HARVESTERS ARE MAKING GOOD

Winnipeg. — "We are just finding out the slackers, that's all, and I am quite confident that the majority of the men are making good," declared Hon. Robert Forke, Minister of Immigration, following a conference regarding British harvesters, which he had with Thomas Galey.

About six hundred have been sent back to England, Mr. Forke said, and possibly two hundred more will go back as having failed to make good, but that left something like eight thousand British harvesters in the western fields, who were not being heard from because they were too busy working.

He had talked with the physician who had examined 200 of the men sent on their way home and only one of the lot had been really physically unfit, and he was subject to epileptic fits. The others could have worked had they not lacked money.

"There is plenty of work," said Mr. Forke, mentioning that 1,500 men had been sent back to Regina this morning. He had himself come a week's way from Ottawa to see that the five British harvesters on his own farm were doing well.

He thought the harvesters who cut the wages of British harvesters because of inexperience were a little shabby, at the same time he agreed that men new to the work were bound to be inferior to experienced hands.

The minister warmly praised the work of Mr. Galey in handling affairs at the immigration sheds under most trying circumstances. "No one could do better," he said.

All physically unfit British harvesters will be returned to the Old Country, Mr. Forke asserted, regardless of their desire about remaining here.

A non-political committee for the supervising of British immigration will be a probability by the Minister of Immigration.

"It does not foresee any definite changes which would regulate the immigration of British harvesters," he said. "It is likely that it will continue to be in the hands of war and government happens to be in power."

Ottawa. — Details of the extension of the assisted passage scheme to the wives and children of British settlers not employed on the land in Canada, have been announced at the department of agriculture and colonies. Assisted passages were formerly only given families of those who settled on the land.

A reduced steamship fare of $18.25 has been arranged through the co-operation of the British and Canadian Governments for the wives and children of those who were satisfactorily settled in Canada on June 1 of this year. Children under 17 years of age will be free. The Canadian Colonization fare is for the destination is the only added charge. The arrangement has been made in order to implement a recommendation of the agriculture and colonies committee made on June 9 last.

In order to avoid himself at the reduced rates for his family the settler need only establish that he is successfully established in Canada and a reasonable prospect of being able to support them.

The results will be very good for us."

Fire Destroys Famous Hotel

Manoir Hotel At Murray Bay

Murray Bay, Que. — All that now remains of the Manoir Hotel, famous Canadian summer hotel here, is a smoking wreck of crumbling stone, charred rafters and twisted steel girders. A unit of the Western Canada Automobile Association is being organized in Mirror and district, and all automobile owners are cordially invited to join. The idea behind the organization is to bring the farmer in closer touch with the townspeople on matters that the whole community is interested. Each unit is self-supporting and is financially independent after the first year of its existence, keeping $6.00 of the $6.50 membership fee in the Mirror treasury. This money enables the club to put up road signs and keep roads in repair. Working with other units that surround it can accomplish wonders in the keeping of main roads open in winter. The Board of Trade unanimously urged the organization of the unit here, and its officials of the Association feel sure that a good live club will be seen here in the new future backed as it is by the Board of Trade.

The Skating and Curling Rink

We find ourselves at the present time confronted with the problem of a curling rink, which is by no means an easy one. The original idea of building on the railroad property has been abandoned, as the location chosen now is on the park site just south of Shepherd's. The project has developed to such a stage that the committee themselves with enough money to attempt them going ahead will be undertaking immediately. A caution warns that by so doing, they would be encumbered by debt which would prove disastrous. Although a gamble is being taken by proceeding without assurance of sufficient capital, an equally serious chance is being run by delaying the matter. Meetings were held Monday and Tuesday evenings at which a committee was formed and the proposition gone into thoroughly. Plans have been drawn and Mr. Smith of the Crown Lumber Co. has given a very low figure on the material. All other items included the committee find that $1300 is required.

We have not the space to give full outline of the arrangements of the committee, but as definite plans can not be made till the plans are added to the shareholders, we urge that everyone do their bit to "put it over". The town has or has been in need of a rink and here is a chance of an up-to-date curling and skating rink that will be permanent.

With the object of encouraging the satisfactory assimilation of the numbers of British harvesters who will remain in Western Canada when the threshing season is over, every effort is being made by Colonization and Land Settlement offices and the Provincial Labor Bureau to have these men placed as farm help throughout the province for the coming winter.

There is, however, a great body of harvesters who are willing and anxious to remain in the country providing they can secure winter employment. If these men can settle themselves over the winter and during that period familiarize themselves further with farm work, they should be able to earn satisfactory wages in the spring and have no difficulty in securing farm work on a yearly basis at wages which will leave them in very much better circumstances than those under which they were working in England. There is a strong tendency for these men to flock to the cities where the opportunities of secure employment are reduced to a minimum. They are therefore advised to stay in the districts where they are acquainted.
